VOL. XXXVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1908.

NO. 51.

ADAM M. PENCE,

Was a native of Lincoln county, Ky., a farmer from choice, a Methodist by profession and rich experience in grace. He was one of the principal men in Stanford Methodism. He was called higher a few days since, and has gone to join the victorious host in that country beyond the stars, where the shadows never fall, disease and suffering are unknown, and old death the despoiler of human hopes, and tomb builder of the centuries, is shut out forever. I feel to congratulate him on his triumph. He won it on a well fought field, of some peculiar tests, and demonstrated the grip of faith and possible walk with God, using the means of grace. His conversion bound him to God, in a covenant, which was never broken, and dated the beginning of a walk in righteousness, that ended in glory. His religion controlled his life acts; his chief efforts was to please God, and engage in farming, to pay expense. He knew how to make money, and God prospered his plans, and he practiced the Wesleyan rule, make all you can, save all you can, and give all you can. He was a Missionary in spirit, and by princely gifts, of money both at home and in foreign lands, his last benefit was for Christian education. His private secretary says, he gave more money for benevolent enterprises than any person knows, he sowed bountifully by the side of many waters. It was his pleasure to be about the parsonage when a new pastor came, and hitched on to him and never balked, saw what should be done in the way of repairs and furnishing, and it came to pass.

He was the most original man, as to thought and expression, I ever met. He saw men and things close, and when he concluded his say, his company had his opinion, full and free; he saw the nail, and hit it on the head. No man thought he meant a shovel when the subject in hand was tongs. I regret to lose such a man out of Methodism; it leaves such a vacancy. To me it appears, like one end of the Churchless Methodist at Stanford, has fallen out. His place can only be filled by a spirit like his, and we will never see his like again. Religion was his thought and conversation; if he did not take his company on it first, he did not hold off until second came slowly on. There was no escape from him on his most interesting subject, only by flight. The last morning he saw on earth, an old colored man came for seed corn saying I am so tired in body. After supplying his want, he engaged him on religion and its comforts, and the great beyond. He seemed to have a presentment of his departure. When the colored friend rose to start, he said, I feel rested Mars Adam, in my body and comfort in my soul since you talked to me about that good country.

That evening, while loading his wagon out of the barn, he sank down into unconsciousness, from which he never recovered, and passed on a few hours later, into that unseen land where real life begins, where the soul is uncaged, the workman finds the highest employment and happiness eternal is reached, and its sun never goes down. He has gotten his crown.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organs always fail. Don't drug the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply a make-shift. Get a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthens these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

NEALS CREEK.—Farmers are needing rain in this section. Corn will be cut short if we do not get rain soon. Carroll Rains is on the sick list. Mrs. Kittie Munday and sons and Miss Bettie Rains visited Mrs. Nick Vanhook at Saulley. Mr. and Mrs. Clark, of Mt. Xenia, were guests of Mrs. Farmer. Miss Dossie Harrington visited her mother at Eubanks Saturday. Mrs. Pulina Rains is the guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. Mays, in Casey county. Mrs. Minnie Martin, of Rowland, visited Mrs. Taylor Roberts. Ben Cooley has a position at High Bridge. Taylor Roberts and wife attended the funeral of Robert Martin at Stanford.

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 for Women." It tells of Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. Tells how these soothing healing, antiseptic suppositories, bring quick and certain help. The Book is free. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Penny's Drug Store.

Frost fell at Des Moines, Iowa, Monday night.

Miss Hammonds Visits Niagara Falls and Cities of the East and Writes Entertainingly of Them.

On Saturday morning, Aug. 15, a congenial party of 15 members, chartered by Mrs. Jake Joseph, left Lancaster for Niagara Falls and other points of interest. At Paris we were given a special train, which runs thro' to the Falls, and were joined by parties from Nicholasville, Winchester and other towns, making a select crowd of 300 Kentucky pilgrims, whose eyes were turned toward the wonder spot that has attracted tourists from all parts of the world.

Routed via the C. H. & D., we passed through the most beautiful part of Ohio, stopping at Hamilton, Dayton and Toledo. From Toledo we were carried 60 miles along Lake Erie, then into the farming districts of Canada. Like Ohio, the fertile fields of Canada stretch out as far as the eye can reach, and in all these acres a hill is seldom seen. One point that impressed the farmers was the fences, made entirely of stumps (a good suggestion for those inclined to be lazy.)

After a night's ride through Canada, we reached the Falls, getting our first view of Table Rock. Realizing that all these glories were never touched by the hand of man but were the workmanship of our Creator, we seemed to be walking on hallowed ground. Here one can look for weeks and months—the great falls, the grand canon, the wonderful whirlpool, the chasm along the gorge can only be appreciated by personal observation. It is a thrilling experience to stand and watch the thousands of tons of water crash down upon the rocks that tremble beneath the blow, and see the columns of mist rising up, interwoven with rainbows.

Crossing Lake Ontario, we took the side trip over to Toronto, the metropolis of the fairest province of Canada. While a modern city, Toronto boasts of its history and tradition. The manufacturing and wholesale industries will compare with those of any American city. Ample provision has been made for this and future generations in the way of parks and pleasure places, 1,500 acres being devoted to these open air spaces. A part of this space is taken up by the Woodbine race track, where some horses owned by Lincoln county men have made splendid records.

Returning via Buffalo, we were impressed with one of the most beautifully constructed of all Eastern cities. Here we were shown the leading hotels, the McKinley monument, the famous Delaware Avenue, on which are situated the homes of Buffalo's millionaires, the Albright Art Gallery, the Soldier's Monument and the crematory (which the Irish chauffeur said was running in opposition to the cemetery.)

After leaving Buffalo on one of the finest and fleetest steamers that ply the Great Lakes, we enjoyed a 300-mile ride across Lake Erie, landing at Detroit. This city is the hub of tourists and traffic and presents many pleasing attractions. It seems that one could never approach a more perfect paradise on earth than Belle Isle, the never failing source of delight to many thousands of citizens and visitors. It is a delightful retreat with a world of flowers and shrubs, intersected with placid lagoons and winding canals. Here is found the second best aquarium in the world. We were entertained royally in Detroit, but on the eve of our departure, when the land struck up "My Old Kentucky Home," we did not forget that we were residents of that State, and realized with Goldsmith: "Such is the patriot's boast where'er we roam, His first, best country ever is at home."

FLONNIE C. HAMMOND.

"John, I must have one of these skyscraper hats."

Served us coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocer's everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, will trick even a coffee expert. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Pure healthful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc. have been so cleverly blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And it is "made in a minute," too. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. Penny's Drug Store.

The next meeting of the Eighth District Publisher's League will be held at Estill Springs Sept. 4. Every newspaper man in Kentucky is cordially invited to attend and bring his wife or sweetheart.

You can always tell a young man who has just graduated from college—but you can't tell him very much.—Somerset Journal.

A. O. Brown & Co., New York brokers, have suspended operations. The firm is said to be involved for over a million dollars. The failure came as a result of the sensational trading Saturday, when Brown & Co. handled over 700,000 shares of stock.

Judge Thompson, in the United States Court at Cincinnati, denied the petition of the Union Distilling Company and others for a temporary injunction restraining the Government from carrying out its order that "imitation" whisky must be branded as such.

Representatives of the State normal schools at a meeting in Lexington decided to take steps to test the constitutionality of the act appropriating $500,000 for these institutions, which State Auditor James has refused to recognize, and to enforce the payment of the appropriation.

She—I see where a fellow married a girl on his death bed just so she could have his millions when he was gone. Could you love a girl like that?

He—Sure I could love a girl like that. Where does she live?

August time, tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves" then the stomach, heart, and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

The first use of the word "strike" in its present accepted sense occurred in the London Chronicle in 1765. In September of that year are many references to a great suspension of labor in the northern coal fields, and the colliers are stated to have "struck out" for higher wages.

Attention, Asthma Sufferers! Foley's Honey and Tar will give immediate relief to asthma sufferers and has cured many cases that had refused to yield to other treatment. REV. GEO. D. VERCO,

MIDDLEBURG.

Our people should keep cool on the Graded School question and not give Gov. Wilmon occasion to send soldiers here.

Charles Mullins, of Kidd's Store, and Miss Jennie Hall were married on the 20th. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Hall and is pretty.

The trustees of this school district met here Monday and elected C. M. Perkins, of the Turkey Knob district, chairman, and U. S. Tapscott, of this district, secretary.

R. B. Young has about completed his residence adjoining the bank and it is the prettiest in town. He has had several opportunities to sell but has refused and will occupy it himself as soon as he can persuade some young lady to do his housekeeping.

Mrs. W. I. Gann, of Nashville, is with her daughter, Mrs. John Coulter, at Yosemite. Mrs. Laura Lee and daughter, Miss Beasie, went to Kingsville Saturday to see Frank Lee, who is sick. Miss Nannie Mills, of Ellisburg, was here with Miss Willie Fogle. Stanley McIntosh, the tallest and most polite bank cashier in the State, spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. Haney. Mrs. Gussie Delaney, of Arabia, has been with relatives here for a week or so.

It is just four miles from Middleburg to Mt. Salem, and yet a letter addressed to a friend at Mt. Salem is just 24 hours in reaching its destination. It is placed in the mail sack here and carried to McKinney; there it changes hands and is carried North to a point somewhere this side of kingdom come, when again it changes hands and is carried to Hustonville, where it remains over night. Next morning it is given over to the rural carrier, who delivers it at his leisure. This is one of the blessings of rural delivery of mails.

These hotels I am sure have an idea that no man in moderate circumstances would ever be foolish enough to come here. Therefore, made up their minds that only those who had more money than brains would venture so close to the ocean. They go on the idea "a fool and his money soon part," and charge $100 a week for a man and his wife; front room overlooking the ocean. So that's what they are doing to me, which I at first thought was robbery. But when I can sit at our front window and see five thousand people at one time, over half of them women in bathing suits, exposing to view arms, neck, feet and nether limbs, I take it all back—they don't charge enough. That is decidedly the best bargain I have made since I landed.—Col. Bill Thorne at Atlantic City.

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of abrasions," writes Mr. W. Stone, of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at Penny's Drug Store, 25c.
